AMUSEMENTS

GERALDINE FARRAR IN AN EMOTIONAL ROLE

"The Stronger Vow," most powerful of all Geraldine Farrar screen offerings, will be the attraction at the Butler today. A thrilling, modern drama of the Apache haunts in Paris. "The Stronger Vow" depicts the story of a blood feud that has laid its tragic hand upon two old Spanish families. Geraldine Farrar, as Dolores de Cordova, one of the last of a family that has for almost a century made war on the house of Estudillo, is terrified by the news of her brother, Jose, having been stabbed to death at an eastern carnival in Lerida. Her designing relative, Pedro Toral, is madly frantic by Dolores' flirtation with a handsome stranger, whom he suspects as Juan Estudillo. Learning that the stranger has gone to join the embassy in Paris, Toral accuses him of the murder and forces Dolores to take the blood vow to avenge the killing. Her search takes her to the French capital, where she weds the Marquis de Valera, formerly Juan Estudillo. On her wedding night she learns that she has sworn to kill. Refusing to kill her husband, Toral and a band of Apaches capture her, but she fights her way to freedom when Toral is revealed as the murderer of her brother. You will enjoy it, because it is different—and brimming with exciting action and daring romance. The well known Thomas Santachi heads a supporting cast of notable screen players in this production. Added to the feature the latest Pathe News: Tomorrow, Tom Moore, in "Go West Young Man." Wednesday, William Farnum in "For Freedom."

"Synthetic" shoes are the latest. Anything to furnish an excuse for the unheard of prices.

Why should it be necessary to try the question of the insanity of a man charged with bigamy?
